The Henry in Parkdale

You like beautiful places and things built to last. Fine details and elegant tailoring. Glittering city lights and the peaceful rush of a river. The Henry in Parkdale is the embodiment of all those things, starting in the mid $600s. There's no compromising here: the Henry combines stylish finishes with elegant function, stunning views with easy access to the city centre.

A Rare and Precious Thing

The Henry is one of those places only a lucky few can call home — there are just six homes in each building. You can sit on your rooftop patio and enjoy the view knowing it's unique to you and only a few others. Know your neighbours. It's your own, special view of the city.

The Centre of Everything

Right on the edge of the Bow River, something amazing is about to happen. The Henry is getting ready to become part of the vibrant fabric of Calgary's inner city. Close to the shops, restaurants and business district downtown, an extensive pathway network, parks, and major thoroughfares. The Henry might include upgrades, style and a view that make you want to stay home, but the location draws you out into the wider world.
